Stay sound

Vetروفen is a 100% natural, powerful antioxidant that's fast-acting and safe, with no side-effects for either short-term or continuous use. It targets inflammatory response from bruising in just three hours, but is most effective after 6 - 12 hours.

The benefits Vetروفen brings to the function, flexibility and comfort of the joints, ligaments, muscles and tendons - all of which, if compromised, can detract from health, wellbeing and performance - are second to none. It is the perfect support for veterinary or farrier visits, training sessions, roadwork, hillwork and competition days, plus its potent antioxidant qualities also make it the ideal support for short-term swelling and areas of inflammation.

Quite simply, the new Vetروفen Intense sachets are a tack box must for home and away.

How to feed Vetروفen Intense 3.5g sachets

Vetروفen Intense 3.5g sachets enable you to have a product you can rely on and trust, close at hand, for those times where a little additional nutritional support is required.

Based on a horse weighing 400kg - 600kg (half the amount for ponies) give one sachet of Vetروفen the night before and one sachet 2-3 hours before activity.

Given after work, when Vetروفen can help with knocks, bumps and bruises, one sachet should be given immediately after exercise.

Vetروفen can also be used for recovery and/or as a boost. In this instance give one sachet immediately. For extra fast results or intense activity you can double the suggested serving for optimum performance.
